

HIIG NAME CHANGE TEASER

For years you've known us as Houston International Insurance Group ("HIIG"). All that's about to change. In four days we will launch a new brand that embodies the company we've become.

We have a bold new vision. Our aim is to be the specialty insurance company where great people want to work and the best customers and partners want to bring their business – so they can shed limitations and unleash their potential.

When you see our new brand next week, you'll see this vision put into action. Watch for the big reveal.
